Introduction

Location—Natural Features—Production—Scenery.

The town of Winthrop-Pond Town—as originally called, was a part of the old grant of land known to all who are in anyway familiar with the land titles of the Kennebec Valley as the "Plymouth Grant" or the Kennebec Purchase. This grant was thirty miles wide, extending east and west fifteen miles each way from the Kennebec river. The limits north and south were from the vicinity of Norridgework to Merrymeeting Bay.

As to the natural features they are unsurpassed by any in the state of Maine. Its lake scenery is most beautiful. The large Lake Maranacook joined with Cobbosseeconte and the system which is formed by their tributaries is a most interesting and valuable one.

Mr. Thurston states in history that Hon. Benjamin Vaughan, of Hallowell, an Englishman by birth and by residence, for a part of his years, a member of the English Parliment for some years, pronounced the region the most interesting to be found in New England. From an elevation where the town-house is located with favorable atmostpheric conditions, the White mountains of New Hampshire and the hills of Dixmont near the Penobscot river are clearly visible.

Early Settlement

According to the best information we can obtain Mr. Timothy Foster came here in 1764 and brought his wife and ten children in 1765. He pitched his tent about eight rods from the Great Pond. Here the first framed building was put up.

The next family which came was Squire Bishop, his wife and six children in the spring of 1767. They were from Rehoboth, Mass. Families by the name of Fairbanks, Stanley and Pullen came from Attleboroug, Mass.

Though several kinds of game were plenty, the early settlers did not come to be hunters. They had other desires and employments. The few inhabitants came into the wilderness to provide for their families for whom they felt a lively interest. Had they been drones, they would never thought of coming to Pond Town for a living, or have encountered the toils and hardships incident to such a situation.

GRANTS OF LAND

The township was not sold to a few proprietors who might speculate and defraud individual purchasers. The Plymouth Company or as they were then called the "Colony of New Plymouth" granted lots to individual settlers upon specified conditions. In examining the records of the Plymouth Company, I find that on June 11, 1766, a lot of land was granted to Timothy Foster, one mile long and one hundred poles wide, containing two hundred acres. It was lot No. 8, as delineated by a plan made by John McKecknie, who appears to have made the first survey of the town. The conditions of the grant were that the said Timothy Foster build a house not less than twenty feet square and seven feet stud, clear and bring to fit for tillage, five acres of land within three years from the date hereof, and actually upon the premises himself during said term, or in case of his death, that his hiers or some person shall dwell upon said premises during said term or that he or they or some person under him or them shall thereupon for seven years after expiration of said three years, reserving to this property all mines and minerals whatsoever within the hereby granted premises, with liberty of digging and carrying off the same.

Squire Bishop had Lot No. 17 granted him the same day on the same conditions.

Eben Bly had Lot No. 18 the same day on the same conditions.

Lot No. 10 to John Needham June 4, 1767 on the same conditions.

Samuel Scott had Lot No. 13 reserved for him, but September 14, 1768 it was transferred to Samuel Needham on the same conditions.

October 12, 1768 Abraham Wyman had Lot No. 12 granted to him on the same conditions.

Nathan Hall had Lot No. 11 granted to him the same day on the same conditions.

January 11, 1769 Robert Waugh had Lot No. 98 granted to him on the same conditions.

Timothy Foster, Jr., had Lot No. 5 granted him April 12, 1769 on the same condition. The same day Phillip Snow had Lot No. 30.

Nathaniel Stanley, Lot No. 18; Amos Boynton, Lot No. 29; Peter Hopkins, Lot No. 9; Benjamin Fairbanks, Lot No. 6; John Chandler, Lot 51 and 52 all granted the same day on the same conditions.

Nathaniel Floyd had Lot No. 42 granted to him the same day.

Stephen Pullen had Lot No. 56 granted to him December 14, 1768 on the same terms.

August 22, 1770 Ichabod Howe had Lot No. 70; Joseph Chandler had Lot No. 78; John Blunt had Lot No. 22 all on the same terms.

August 27, 1770 Billy Foster had Lot No. 7.

August 12, 1772 Jonathan Whiting had Lot No. 101; Joseph Baker had Lot No. 213; Samuel Stevens had Lot No. 139; Stephen Jones had Lot No. 14 on the same conditions.

July 14, 1773 John Chandler had Lot No. 99; Elisha Smith had Lot No. 134; Squire Bishop had Lot 55; Unight Brown had Lot 64; Jonathan Whiting had Lot No. 200; Richard Humphrey had Lot No. 83 all on the same conditions.

July 9, 1777 Lot No. 247 according to John Jones survey was granted to the minister who should be settled in Winthrop. The conditions were that he should continue to preach the gospel in said town ten years from and after his settlement unless the said minister should be removed by death before the expiration of that term, provided, nevertheless, that in case a gospel minister shall not be settled in said town on or before the year 1780; then this grant is to be void and to revert back to this property. This is the lot upon which ——— Kezar lived in 1855. Also June 9, 1777, Lot No. 57, Jones' survey containing about 200 acres was by the proprietors of the Plymouth Company voted, granted and assigned to the town of Winthrop for the use of the ministery in said town forever. The township was surveyed by Dr. John McKecknie. It was laid out in lots one mile long and one hundred poles or rods wide.

In 1776 some young men among whom were Stephen Pullen, Nathaniel Stanley, Benjamin Fairbanks and probably Ebenezer Bly and some others came to this place. In 1767 Nathaniel Fairbanks came and passed the summer and returned. In the spring, John Chandler came and a number of others. Prior to this there was no road from Pond Town to the Kennebec river. The bushes were cut away, and a line of spotted trees was their guide through the dense forest. A grist mill had been erected on the Cobbosseeconte stream, in what is now Gardiner, by Dr. Gardiner and son of Boston. The people had to go all the way to Cobbossee to procure the grinding of all their meal, nor had they any other way of conveying it except upon their shoulders, for there was not a horse in town, and there being no road they could not avail themselves of the labors of their oxen. An incident has been related as having occurred during this period of privation and trial which may interest the ladies.

In these days they were accustomed to all sorts of toil and hardships. Mrs. Foster, wife of the first settler undertook to assist her husband by going to Cobbossee to mill. Living on the margin of the great pond she crossed in a canoe to save distance, and the boat was taken back, by some means she was detained so long that on her return to the east side of the pond it was so dark that she could not find the horn which was kept to call for the boat and she was under the painful necessity of remaining in the woods all night. How many females of today have either the strength or the courage for such an adventure?

Mr. John Chandler came with his family in 1767. He had considerable property. Amos Stevens when a young man 18 years of age came with him as a hired man. Some two or three years later his father, Joseph Stevens, removed into the place with the rest of his family. They were from New Ipswich, N. H. Mr. Chandler was also from the place and his was the fourth family which settled in Pond Town.

As yet they had no road to the Kennebec river and there being no saw mill in the place, they dwelt in log houses. In 1768 a road was cleared out so that they could pass with oxen and carwheels to the hook now Hallowell. Mr. Chandler built a saw mill on the stream where the cotton manufactury was later, and in the course of this year erected a grist mill. But to get the mill stones from the river was a great achievement. It is said to have required the whole strength of the place, both men and oxen during nearly a week.

HARDSHIPS

As specimens of the hardships of the early comers we give the following:

Nathaniel and Joseph Fairbanks in the month of February took their guns, snowshoes and dogs and started off in a westerly direction on a hunting excursion. Having gone a long distance the dogs went up a hill and gave notice that they had found game. The hill they supposed to be in what is now the town of Leeds. The dogs had found a noble moose which the hunters soon killed and dressed. But the day was so far spent they could not return. They therefore buried their meat in the snow and camped for the night. The next day they took their meat upon handsleds and brought it home. This was a large moose of 800 pounds.

Mr. Gideon Lambert was an early settler. He and his family had to subsist one season from planting time to rye harvest, on milk and herbs. During this time he fell four, and some say six acres of trees, and prepared them for the burn the ensuing spring. He had been a soldier in the old French and Indian War. He aided in the defeat of the British army under the command of Abercombie, 1758. He also served in the war of the Revolution, after he came to Pond Town.

Some families were so destitute of provisions, that one at least, by the name of Delano, subsisted, for a time on boiled beech leaves. Others were without bread from sowing time until harvest. Some of them had nothing for themselves but milk and maple sugar. One neighbor sustained the children of another neighbor on skimmed milk. A woman said, the day after the birth of a child she dined on smoked moose meat and turnip greens. Her husband had gone to procure them breadstuff, was gone longer than she expected. She had finished the last of her provisions. What could she do? Her neighbors could not assist her, for they were in the same predicament. She was greatly at loss what course to take to save herself and the child. She adopted this singular method: She ate salt; that made her thirsty, and she drank more, and this procured nurishment for the child.

The neighbors would hunt in company, and share the game between them, because there were times in which they could obtain provisions so well in no other way. Mr. David Foster, in the month of June was very destitute of food. He went to a brook and caught a sucker, which, while it was broiling gave a cheering fragrance. He dug up some of the potatoes he had planted to eat with his fish; but he found the fish very soft, and the potatoes very watery. But they sustained life.

Mr. Squire Bishop came with his family to Pond Town in embarrassed circumstances, poor and in debt. But though for a season they were greatly straitened, and at times much disheartened, he at length accumulated property sufficient to enable him to pay his creditors the amount of their claims

Rev. Mr. Eaton once came to preach the gospel to the poor, and impart the bread of life to these few in the wilderness, called on Mr. Bishop's family and found them very destitute. Mrs. Bishop went to the pigeon net and obtained a competent supply. At another time Mr. Bishop's family were out of provisions, and none to be had nearer than Cobbossee. Mrs. Bishop spoke to her husband about going to procure something for their sustenance. He was much discouraged, and said he was so feeble, that he could not get to Cobbossee, and they might as well die where they were. But the woman not so disponding, resolved to see what she could do. Necessity is the mother of invention. She bent up some pins, procured a pole, line and bait, took her babe in her arms and went to the pond, which was no great distance, and caught as many fish as she could conveniently carry with her child. On returning to the house, she heard a rustling in one of the trees, and looking up she saw a racoon. Now what shall she do? If she called to her husband to came with his gun, it would doubtless frighten the animal and he would escape, or if she went and told her husband the game might be gone. Perhaps some good angle suggested to her the plan, which was this: She took some of her cloths and some of the child's and made such an image as she could and placed it at the foot of the tree upon which the animal was, and hastened to the house. She said to her husband, "The Lord has sent us a coon; take your gun and go and shoot him." He replied, "he will be gone to Boston before I can get to him." "No he won't; you will find him there. The Lord has sent him. Mr. Bishop took his gun and shot the racoon. They fed upon the meat till Mr.

Bishop recovered strength and courage to procure a supply of food. Thus providentially their lives were saved.

Other incidents of a similar nature can be recounted in large numbers to show the straightened circumstances, the grim determination, the tremendous courage and wonderful ingenuity of the settlers in the wilderness.

ACT OF INCORPORATION

Whereas the inhabitants of a certain tract of land called Pond Town lying on the west side of Kennebec river, in the County of Lincoln, are desirous of enjoying the privileges that will arise to them by being incorporated into a town.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and House of Representatives, that the tract of land aforesaid, butted and bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning on the west side of Cobbosseecontee Great Pond, at the easterly end of the southerly line of a two hundred acre lot numbered one: from thence to run a west-north-west course five miles; from thence to run a north-north-east course about nine miles, until it meets a line running west-north-west from the north-west corner of the town of Hallowell; from thence to run east-north-east on the last mentioned line seven miles more or less, to the northwest corner of the said town, and from thence to run southerly on the west line of said town as far as the northerly end of Cobbosseecontee Great Pond, from thence to run westerly on the southerly end of said Pond to the west side thereof; thence to run southerly on the westerly side of said Pond to the first mentioned boundary; containing also the said Pond as far south as the boundary, be and hereby is enacted into a township by the name of Winthrop; and that the inhabitants thereof be and hereby is enacted into a township by the name of Winthrop; and that the inhabitants thereof be and hereby are invested with all the powers, privileges and immunities which the inhabitants of any of the towns within this province do, or by law ought to enjoy.

And be it further enacted, that James Howard, Esq., be and hereby is empowered to issue his warrant directed to some principal inhabitant in said township, qualified by law to vote in town affairs, to meet at such time and place as shall be thereon set forth, to choose all such officers as shall be necessary to manage the affairs of said township.

And be it further enacted that the freeholders of said town shall be and hereby are empowered, at their first meeting, to proceed to bring in their votes for Register of Deeds, and also for a treasurer for the said County of Lincoln, qualified according to law; and the votes for such register and treasurer shall be at the same time sealed up by a constable of said town, who may then be chosen and sworn, and by him returned into the Court of General Sessions of the Peace, to be holden in June next at Pownalborough, for the said County, in the same manner as provided by law in like cases for other towns within this Province, which Court is hereby authorized and required to receive the said votes, which votes with the votes of the other towns of the said County shall be opened, sorted and counted, as the law directs, for determining the choice of such register and treasurer, and such choice shall be at all intents and purposes valid and effectual in law.

And be it further enacted, that by reason of sickness, or any other means, the said James Howard, Esq., shall be prevented from preforming the business (or any part thereof) to which he is appointed by this act, then, in that case, William Cushing, Esq., shall be and hereby is empowered to transact the whole, or any part of said business, as fully and effectually as the said James Howard is by the several clauses of this act, empowered to transact the same. From the fragments of the town records, it is inferred, that this warrant was directed to Mr. John Chandler, who, in obedience to instructions, warned a meeting of the inhabitants to be held on the twentieth of May.

Passed April 26, 1771.

This town was the first one incorporated not on navigable waters in Maine. On the following May, the twentieth day, the first town meeting was holden at the house of Squire Bishop and was presided over by Ichabod Howe.

Readfield was incorporated as a separate town on March 11, 1791, and was composed of territory that was formerly Winthrop.

Military Matters

The town of Winthrop has a military record of which she can be justly proud. The War of the Revolution found Winthrop but a hamlet in the forests of the then sparsely settled District of Maine. But her record shows that her response was hearty and loyal. The following lines from a previous writer read as follows:

"The War of the Revolution commenced in 1775. The 19th of this year, the Battle of Lexington was fought. The report of this aroused the spirit of the young men of Winthrop. Not long after, Nathaniel Fairbanks, known for many years after as Col. Fairbanks, and eighteen other young men, repaired to the headquarters of the Provincial army at Cambridge, to defend their country. Of these eighteen, four were sons of the first settler, Capt. Timothy Foster; Billy, Eliphalet, Thomas and John who went as privates, and did not return to reside in Winthrop. Elijah Fairbanks was another. The names of the others are not known. Nathaniel Fairbanks was afterwards in the Regiment under the command of Arnold, of infamous memory, on an expedition to Canada. But becoming short of provisions, that part of the Regiment to which young Fairbanks belonged was ordered to return.

The following indicates Winthrop's activity in the War of 1812—14: This town raised two companies for state defense. The one attached to Stone's regiment had for captain, Asa Fairbanks; lieutenant, Solomon Easty; ensign, Jonathan Whiting; Benjamin Richard, Wadsworth Foster, John Richards and Oliver Foster were sergeants; Eliphalet Stevens, Thomas Stevens, Samuel Chandler and Columbus Fairbanks, coporals; Bezer Snell and Nathan Bishop, musicians; the privates numbered thirty-four men.

The other company was attached to Sweet's regiment. The captain was Elijah Davenport; lieutenant, Samuel Benjamin; ensign, Herman Harris; Jabez Bacon, Levi Fairbanks, Joseph Heselton and Francis Perley were sergeants; Stephen Sewall, Benjamin King, Daniel Heselton and Caleb Harris were coporals; Waterman Stanley, Josiah Bacon, Jr., Stephen Abbott, Thomas Fuller and Simon Clough, musicians; the company contained forty-four privates.

Manufacturing Notes

The town of Winthrop has ever been well represented in the line of manufacturing. From the first she has been engaged in several lines.

Of course the early years brought forth only the absolute necessities. These were, as every one at all familiar with the early years is aware, the saw and grist mill. No one of the towns at the time of the pioneer found it possible to dispense with these facilites converting the products of nature into the forms that their needs demanded. John Chandler built the first saw mill in this town on the site of the woolen factory. This was running as early as 1768. Hushai Thomas was the builder of the next one which was gone ere the second decade of the 19th Century. The third saw mill was built on what was known as the dam number three. It was called the Sewell Mill and belonged to the Cotton mill, whose manager was Stephen Sewell. Mr. Dearborn built the fourth mill on the Old Canal, a saw mill which was later moved to the Cole dam number four. It was destroyed in 1853, by fire. After this he built on the other side of the stream, a mill, which also met the same fate as its predecessor.

The first grist mill in Winthrop was the result of the energy and perseverance of John Chandler. It was one of the provisions of his contract that he should build the mill, and he carried out the project and ran it for many years. Lake Maranacook was known for nearly a century as Chandler's Pond, from the name of the builder of the mills at its foot. The date is probably not far from the same time as the first saw mill, 1768. John Chandler, Jr., erected another mill on the west side of the stream a short distance below the site the old brick mill. The third grist mill was built on Perley Canal. The fourth was built by Messrs Clark & Shaw. The present grist mill was started in 1891 by H. & J. W. Maxim. It is located on the west side of the village, and is now run by D. H. Maxim.

The present saw mills in Winthrop are those of D. H. Maxim and S. G. Davis.

Among the other early industries of Winthrop were the following:

The old fulling mill of Cyrus Baldwin, built in 1791 and sold by him to Benjamin Allen and by him to Liberty Stanley. Other owners were: John Cole, Hiram Cole, Mr. Merrill, Messrs. Benjamin & Davis, and Luther Whitman, the three latter parties owning it in partnership. The fire of 1853 destroyed this mill and its site was sold to Mr. Whitman.

The old pottery was another of the early industries. It was located on the site of the stone blacksmith shop and was run by Thomas Fuller.

The brick industry was started in town about the time of the building of the brick mill for the cotton company. Those engaged in this industry were: Isaac Bonney, Major Elijah Wood, Charles Nelson, Oaks Howard and Nathan Cobb.

The first tannery was built here prior to 1800 by Col. Fairbanks. Another one was erected by Samuel Clark, on the stream below where the woolen mill is, at a date not far from 1803. He was succeeded by his son, E. Miller Clark, who later sold to B. & L. Jones.

The carriage business in this town has been an industry of note for almost the entire history of the town, at least, throughout the past century. It has been almost entirely in the hands of the Stanley family. The product of the Stanley shops has won an enviable reputation throughout the central portion of the state.

The boot and shoe manufactury was once an important industry here. The Winthrop product was largely for wholesale trade and was carried on largely by the following: C. F. Wing, E. M. Clark, I. Matthews & Co., S. N. Tufts & Co., C. A. & B. F. Wing, S. J. Philbrook, J. Trufant, Isaac Nelson and Joshua Wing.

The leading industries of Winthrop on a larger scale have been the Winthrop Woolen and Cotton Manufactury, the Oil Cloth industry of C. M. Bailey's Sons & Co., and the machine shop of the Benjamin Brothers. Of the first mentioned the following is a brief statement of the leading facts concerning it.

In 1809 capitalists from Boston and Hallowell bought property, both real estate and water rights at Winthrop village. The Winthrop Woolen and Cotton Manufactory was incorporated, and Amos Barrett was appointed superintendent. During the next five years the concern erected and equipped a four story brick mill. The industry continued to prosper for a few years but the end of twenty years forced the company to close up and remain idle for about seven years. In 1841 or thereabout the property was bought by Messrs. Little and Son, E. Wood, Mr. Jones, and a New York man at a price of about $22,000 and once more put in operation, Mr. S. G. Lee being in charge. In 1846 the property went into the hands of Cushman, Lee, and Metcalf. Through various hands the mill passed till in 1865 when E. Wood died, Boston parties purchased their rights and organized the present Winthrop Mills Co. The capital stock was $150,000. The old building was cut in two pieces and moved away in 1882. The same year, the large cotton mill was built, and the dams number two and three were combined. The different agents of this mill have been P. C. Bradford, John McIlroy, and R. C. McIlroy. The industry has been a large and important factor in the building up of the interests of the town of Winthrop.

The oilcloth industry was started by Dr. Daniel and Moses Bailey, sons of Ezekiel Bailey, who made the oilcloth for tables, and the salesman was Charles M. Bailey. In 1842 C. M. Bailey bought his father's interest in the business and with his brother, Moses, as a partner continued the industry. After a time Moses bought out Charles M. and ran the business alone.

In 1847 the business was again transferred to the hands of C. M. Bailey and he erected a complete new plant at Baileyville. The year 1856 witnessed the destruction of his plant at Baileyville. He had bought a short time before a plant at Winthrop built by Robbins & Haines. Six years later these works were also destroyed by fire. He next assumed the ownership of the Benjamin & Davis machine shops at Winthrop village and soon added other buildings to resume the business.

Moses Bailey's works at Baileyville were destroyed by fire and rebuilt within a year. C. M. Bailey bought Moses Bailey's entire plant. In 1891 the fire fiend again appeared. But the works were soon rebuilt. The business has ever continued to prosper, and today finds the Bailey firm, now known as C. M. Bailey's Sons & Co., one of the leading if not the largest concern making all kinds of oilcloth in this country. This has been the leading manufacturing industry in Winthrop for many years. The company has a factory doing a large business at Skowhegan.

BANKS

The Winthrop Bank, incorporated in 1824, with a capital of $50,000, when the only banks in Kennebec county were at Hallowell, Augusta and Gardiner shows the business requirements of that day. Samuel Wood was president, Thomas J. Lee was cashier. Its business was done in the southeast corner room of Dr. A. P. Snow's present residence. After a short but honorable career, its owners decided to close its affairs. After redeeming most of its bills and settling with its depositors, Samuel Wood became responsible for the adjustment of the balance of its affairs. Mr. Lee, who was a teacher and a school book author of some note, opened a school in the room the bank had used, and attended to all the details of final settlement. The bank of Winthrop was incorporated under the state laws in 1853. E. M. Clark, Stephen Sewell, Erastus W. Kelley, David Stanley, Charles M. Bailey, Wellington Hunton, Benjamin Stockin, Stephen Gammon and Otis Hayford were directors; Charles M. Bailey was president and David Stanley, cashier. The capital stock was $50,000, increased to $75,000, and bills were issued. After doing a prosperous business for about ten years, the directors chose to close up their business rather than pay the ten per cent., on their circulation then required by the act of Congress.

The National Bank of Winthrop was organized with Charles M. Bailey, David Stanley, Ephraim Wood, Phillip C. Bradford and Levi Jones as directors. The doors were open for business November 28, 1864, with Charles M. Bailey, president and John M. Benjamin, cashier. That portion of the affairs of the bank of Winthrop then unsettled was assumed by the new bank. At the end of twenty years the charter was renewed. In addition to these names, Moses Bailey, Francis H. McIntire, Charles A. Wing, Reuben T. Jones, George A. Longfellow and Henry Winslow were or have been directors.

The Winthrop Savings Bank was chartered and began doing business in February, 1872, in the banking room of the Winthrop National Bank. The trustees were: Levi Jones, Charles A. Wing, Moses Bailey, F. H. McIntire and Joseph S. Berry. Levi Jones was president and John M. Benjamin was treasurer.

This institution was very prosperous till, on the night of July 22, 1875, the building was entered by professional burglars, both safes were blown open, and cash and bonds taken in amounts that ultimately made each bank a loser of over $10,000. The savings bank closed up its business and paid its depositors seventy-three cents on a dollar.

The National Bank of Winthrop closed up its affairs a few years ago and was soon succeeded by the Winthrop branch of The Augusta Safe Deposit and Trust Co.

On December 27, 1897 the Augusta Safe Deposit & Trust Co., of Augusta opened a branch at Winthrop and has since that time transacted a liberal amount of business. This is one of the strong banking institutions of the Kennebec Valley and has a very strong board of officials and directors.

The Winthrop branch is under the efficient management of I. O. Gage, whose geniality and excellent business ability has won for himself and the institution he represents, a host of friends. The first manager was A. H. Blair.

Church Account

A previous writer has said that the town of Winthrop was but three weeks old when her people began to make provision for religious privileges, through public action. A committee by the town was appointed to procure preaching for eight Sabbaths in the summer of 1771. We are told that Thurston Whiting was the first preacher to minister to the humble church supporters in the pioneer town. He continued to be the only minister to preach here till 1775. His salary was raised by tax. Jeremiah Shaw was the next preacher. A church council composed of delegates from Harpswell, Pownalborough and New Castle was convened at Winthrop in 1776 and a church organization with twenty-six members was perfected.

Rev. Mr. Shaw and Z. Colby were both called to the pastorate of the church, but declined. Rev. David Jewett was the first settled pastor, located here in 1782 and died one year later. The church from this time on for nearly twenty years was supplied with occasional sermons by Rev. E. Emerson and Rev. S. Eaton.

The town voted to build a house of worship 36x40 feet in size on lot No. 57 in 1774. This church was only partly finished, though it was used to a certain extent. In 1781 the town was divided into two parts for the matter of worship and five years later the south church was decided upon, though it was not completed till 1794.

In 1791 Readfield was made a town from territory that had been part of Winthrop. Eight years later the legislature authorized the sale of the ministerial lands and the division of the proceeds for the support of the ministry. Winthrop's share was $840.85 which sum was placed at interest.

From about this time on the history of the churches in Winthrop is a story that is told in the history of the different denominations. This we give in the main points, briefly, in the following lines.

CONGREGATIONAL

With the coming of the year 1800 the organization of a Congregational church was perfected at Winthrop. The act passsed the general court at Boston on January 31 and had ninety incorporators. The ordained pastor was Jonathan Belden, a Yale College man, who came here this same year. The town voted this society the use of the church on condition that it keep the building in repair for the use of the town.

The next pastor was David Thurston, who was ordained as pastor of this church in 1807. Mr. Thurston continued to be the pastor for forty-five years.

Names of the original members of the Congregational Church, organized September 4, 1776: Jonathan Whiting, Elias Taylor, Joseph Stevens, Nathaniel Floyd, John Chandler, Pease Clark, Thomas Allen, Jonathan Davenport, Amos Stevens, Ebenezer Davenport, Gideon Lambert, Joseph Baker, Nathaniel Stanley Josiah Hall, Ransford Smith, Mary Taylor, Elizabeth Stevens, Sarah Floyd, Abigail Stanley, Sarah Delano, Abigail Hall, Dorcas Baker, Mary Stevens, Anne Hall, and Susanna Lambert.

The successors of Rev. David Thurston have been: Rufus M. Sawyer, Samuel D. Bowker, Thomas K. Noble, Edward P. Baker, Richard W. Jenkins, Warren F. Bickford, William F. Obear, James B. Hawes, Perley J. Robinson, Charles W. Porter, G. H. Credeford, R. R. Morson, Archibald Cullen and A. K. Baldwin.

CHURCH OF THE UNITY

Liberal theology was preached to a considerable extent in this town in the early years, by Universalist ministers who spoke in school houses. In 1818 a society called the Union was formed by thirty-eight members of several towns in this vicinity and were incorporated. Rev. Mr. Mace was the first pastor. In 1837 the first Universalist Society of Winthrop was organized with George W. Quimby as pastor. Their church was erected a year later.

The members of this society were the following: Rev. Giles Bailey and wife, Rev. Comfort C. Smith and wife, Nathan Howard and wife, James Bowdoin Fillebrown and wife, Mrs. Nancy Richmond, Shepherd Bean, Mrs. Oliver Bean, Noah Currier, John Elliott Snell and wife, Benjamin Perkins Briggs and wife, Mrs. Lewis Wood, Mrs. Lewis Cobb, Mrs. Sophronia Chandler, Lucy Chandler, Axel Perkins and wife, Francis Perley, Nathan Fisher Cobb and wife, Benjamin Robbins and wife, Jerusha Robbins, Rev. Benjamin Franklin Robbins and wife, Hiram Pitts, George G. Fairbanks and Mrs. Polly Stanley.

In 1842 a regular church organization was formed, with twelve people as members. This society continued to maintain its organization till it was practically merged into a new organization known as the Church of the Unity, in 1887, by which name it is known today.

The pastors have been: Mr. Mace, G. W. Quimby Giles Bailey, Frederic Foster, George W. Bates, D. T. Stevens, O. H. Johnson, Mr. Goff, A. Bosserman, S. P. Smith, P. S. Thatcher, Charles Burrington, F. A. Gilmore, F. L. Pugsley and others. A. E. Russell is the present pastor.

CATHOLICS

The Catholics of Winthrop were originally visited by priests from Augusta, Waterville and other places till the forming of a church here, in 1886 under the pastorate of E. F. Hurley. The meetings were held at first in the town hall, but St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church was built on Lake street the following year. The buildings were designed by J. W. Matthieu of Farmington and cost $4000. The pastors have been: E. F. Hurley, J. N. Horan, T. A. Lebel and J. N. Desilets.

BAPTIST

The first Baptist sermon said to have been preached in Winthrop was delivered in 1791 by Elder Potter. This was the starting point of this church. Their society, incorporated in 1820, contained the following original members: Enoch Wood, Benjamin Packard, Joseph Wingate, Jr., Ebenezer Packard, Francis Fuller Luke Perkins, Joshua Smith, William Jamerson, John Wadsworth, Jr., Joseph Wood, William Hughs, Joseph Packard, Liberty Woodcock, Samuel Shaw, Ebenezer Blake, Isaac Wadsworth, David Eastman, Nancy Smith, Elizabeth Swift, Nancy Packard, Zeruiah Packard, Hannah Easty, Sarah T. White, Sarah B. Pullen, Zeruiah Matthews, Joanna Richards, Clarissa Richards, Amelia Whiting and Lucretia Richards.

The year 1823 witnessed the building of their church, a large and beautiful church for those days, days at East Winthrop. It was dedicated in 1823. This has ever been a strong organization. Louise Cary, the noted singer, was the granddaughter of Mrs. Simon Cary, a prominent member of this church.

Elder John Butler, the pastor, was installed, and served the church for seven years; he was followed by Rev. Samuel Fogg, R. Rowe, Rev. Joshua Millett, Rev. John E. Ingraham, 1836; Rev. Daniel Burbank, 1839; Franklin Merriam, 1840 and Rev. Sampson Powers, 1849; C. W. Bradbury was the next preacher, and in 1858, during the pastorate of his successor, Rev. Hosea Pierce, the church was altered to its present form. The pastorate of Rev. A. Bryant, commenced May 1869 and closed February 1874; Rev. W. T. Whitmorse was pastor from May 1874 to December 1876; Rev. A. R. Crane supplied from December 1876 to July 1890; I. M. Hamblen, 1891; Rev. Joseph M. Long commenced his pastorate in December 1891; Albert Leech, 1898 and P. S. Collins, 1901.

METHODIST

The beginning of Methodism in Winthrop is due to the ministration of Jesse Lee, the great apostle of that denomination in Maine. The year 1793 is the date of his arrival here. He preached in the Fairbanks neighborhood, probably on the 21st of October. The next year a class was formed under the Rev. Phillip Wager. No regular meetings were held for upwards of a quarter of a century. The Methodist Society was incorporated in 1811 and had the following incorporators: Nathaniel Bishop, Thomas Jacobs, Benjamin Fairbanks, Rial Stanley, Asa Robbins, Eleazer Robbins, Otis Foster, Daniel Foster, Nathan F. Cobb, Alfred Chandler, Daniel Marrow, Timothy Foster, Enos Fairbanks, David Fairbanks, Benjamin Fairbanks, Jr., Jonas Allen Elizabeth Lake.

The church edifice of this society was erected during the year 1825.

The General Conference of the Methodist Church was held in Winthrop in 1851. Three years later the church was enlarged and repaired.

The following ministers have been stationed on this charge from 1856 to 1892: Stephen Lovell, Moses Hill twice, E. Crooker, G. Greeley, D. Fuller, A. Caldwell, C. P. Bragdon, E. Hotchkiss, A. P. Hillman, Abel Alton, J. Cleveland, D. B. Randall, E. Robinson, A. F. Barnard, George Webber, Charles W. Morse, Parker Jaques twice, C. Munger, J. H. Jenne, Stephen Allen, C. C. Mason, Ezekiel Smith, James McMillan, P. E. Brown, F. C. Ayer, A. R. Sylvester, James Nixon, Jr., David Church, G. F. Cobb, C. E. Springer, T. F. Jones, C. E. Bisbee, O. S. Pillsbury, E. T. Adams Sylvester Hooper, E. T. Adams, F. C. Norcross and Thomas N. Kewley.

FRIENDS CHURCH

We had arranged for an account of this prosperous and influential church of Winthrop to be mailed us in ample time for printing; but at this time (of book going to press) we have failed to receive it; but shall hope to receive it in time for insertion at another point.

Census, 1903-4

The population of the town of Winthrop has been arranged herewith in families where that arrangement has been possible. In these families, in addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. It should be borne in mind that this plan does not include the names of all former residents of the town of Winthrop, as the names of the non-residents appear only when one or both the parents are still living in town. At the end of the Census will be found the names of the non-residents with their present addresses, when such addresses have been given to us. The non-residents are indicated by the (*).

Following the names of the population is the occupation. To designate the occupations we have used the more common abbreviations and contractions. Some of these follow: Farmer—far; carpenter—car; railroad service—R R ser; student, a member of an advanced institution of learning—stu; pupil, a member of a lower grade of schools—pl; housework—ho; laborer—lab; physician and surgeon —phy & sur; clergyman—clerg; merchant—mer; teacher—tr; blacksmith—blk: clerk—cl; book-keeper—bk kpr; lawyer—law; mechanic —mech; engineer—eng; insurance—ins; maker—mkr; worker—w'kr; work—wk; shoe shop work—s s wk; Winthrop Mills Co.—W M Co; Bailey's Oil Cloth Works—B's O.

This Census was taken expressly for this work during the month of December, 1903, by R. H. Remick, New Sharon, Maine.

APPENDIX A

In the following lines we have compiled some few facts which we failed to secure in time to include in the body of the historical account.

Educational Notes

The efforts of the early comers to the town of Winthrop indicated, by their actions toward providing for religous services and educational facilities, a most intelligent citizenship.

In connection with the schools, we learn that the year 1783 saw the town divided into seven different school districts, where at first the schools were held in private houses. Benjamin Brainard was the first paid schoolmaster. He taught first in the private house of Benjamin Fairbanks, now owned by John Martin.

The erection of a schoolhouse in town was first mentioned in a town warrant in 1789, when a sum of £160 was raised. This was the New England pound which was equivalent to about $3.33 1-3. At this same meeting the number of districts was increased to ten. A house was erected in each of them. An additional appropriation was made the following year to complete this undertaking. Mr. Benjamin states that the first schoolhouse built in the village under this plan was erected on what is now Main street, and was situated not far from the Methodist church. It stood until 1801. Its size was probably about 16x20 feet.

The year 1785 brought out an appropriation of $100.00 and the following year the same amount. The appropriation was $332.71.

In 1801 a new school building was built in the village. Another was built in 1818, this one being of brick and containing two rooms In 1844 there was a wood story built upon the brick building. This was the village schoolhouse till 1873 when the present $14,000 school building was erected.

One Jennis Towle left a property to establish an institution to be known as Towle Academy. The amount was insufficient to carry out the project, so the town raised the additional cost and erected a town hall in which the institution was conducted for about 12 years. The date of its building was about 1855. This building is now used as a sub-primary school.

At East Winthrop Butler's Female Academy, private school for young ladies, was conducted by Rev. John Butler. It was a model school for the times, and became deservedly popular and drew to East Winthrop many students from the best families in the state.

The town of Winthrop is today possessed of the very best educational facilities and is progressive in every way.
